

Bareos Project News Reader

Client-Packages for HP-UX now available

2017-11-24 16:35

Bareos client-packages are now also available for HP-UX 11.31. Subscription customers can find installation instructions and download the packages at download.bareos.com. Support customers will get full support when using those packages. The packages have passed regression tests and have been in production use for a while.

Please note that the bareos HP-UX software package is compiled against the gcc compiler toolchain and libraries provided by the "HP-UX Porting and Archive Centre". Therefore it depends on packages provided by the HP-UX Porting and Archive Centre, so dependencies have to be installed. Subscription customers can find more information in the installation instructions.