Bareos at the Univention Summit 2018

2018-01-16 14:03

Every year, IT professionals and software developers of Open Source solutions meet at the Univention Summit in Bremen to discuss the latest developments in the field of open source, present their products and make new contacts. This includes providers of cloud solutions, document management or office software as well as security service providers and companies specializing in software for schools. Bareos is also represented every year at the Univention Summit with a booth or lecture on the topic of backup with Open Source software.

This year the summit will take place at the international Jacobs University in Bremen. The supporting programme includes various tracks with their own lecture and workshop programme, a round table for intensive exchange of information between the participants as well as separate keynote speeches and best practice examples.

The Bareos team would be pleased to welcome their customers or interested parties on site. Take the opportunity to exchange information with colleagues from the Open Source area and to inform yourself about new trends in current IT topics.
